This Recycling Directory is informational only

- It is designed to assist residents in locating businesses that recycle materials and products.
- It does not claim to be an all-inclusive list of available options.
- It is not meant to be exclusive or exclusionary in any way.
- It does not vouch for the capabilities, trustworthiness, or performance of any individual or business listed.
- It strongly recommends contacting businesses before utilizing their services, as policies may change.

Cover – 30% post-consumer recycled paper
Pages – 30% post-consumer recycled paper
Many products used in the home, garden, garage, and hobby shop contain hazardous chemicals that can potentially harm the user or the environment.

Items marked as follows should be considered hazardous:

“caution”
“causes severe burns on contact”
“danger”
“do not use near heat or flame”
“eye and skin irritant”
“flammable”
“harmful or fatal if swallowed”
“hazardous”
“keep out of reach of children”
“poison”
“use in a well-ventilated area”
“vapor harmful”

Use safety precautions when using, storing, or disposing of any hazardous products. When discarded, they become household hazardous waste requiring proper disposal.

Tips for Becoming an Environmentally Aware Consumer

If you buy household chemicals,

- Buy the smallest amount possible – you can always buy more.
- Read the label and use only as directed.
- Keep products in their original, labeled containers.
- Share leftover products with friends, neighbors, and others who can properly use the product.
- Use them up!
